Developer «Truchman Technologies»: After months of development, we are pleased to present our newest open source application: Factor Accounting. Application description: Factor Accounting is a powerful and easy-to-use general and invoice-related business application. The application includes three main modules:

· Bank Accounts · Invoices · General Ledger · Accounting statements Each module includes its own functionality and a detailed help-user manual. Operating system: Microsoft Windows NT/2000/XP With our innovative two-way system, Facturacion calculates the invoices depending on your purchase orders. Facturacion Description: With our innovative two-way system, Facturacion calculates the invoices depending on your purchase orders. Overview of the application: ● With factors, you can import or export data from external programs. Using this method, you can import, calculate and export from external programs. ● You can create and edit invoices by using account books, currency rates, etc. Invoices have always been calculated exactly as you want them to be, according to your own rules. ● You can also export invoices to PDF. ● Calculate the accounts directly from your purchased orders. ● Calculate the accounts by importing from another program. ● Factor Accounting is an excellent general invoicing application, which creates invoices for you. When you have several suppliers of purchased goods on the invoice, you must increase the taxes on all. Clients will then enjoy all your goods in the tax on the invoice and not pay too much tax. When you need to calculate your rates in many different provinces, you need to know about the sales tax in all provinces. Calculate rates and obtain the higher tax. This is a powerful general invoice generator for you. b7e8fdf5c8
