. xbox xiso manager download xbox xiso manager . xbox xiso manager 1.3.1 39 Crack Free DownloadQ: How do I map the first field of a record to a function? I have a macro I'm writing that will loop through the first value in a record. %let cnt=1; %macro foo(n=&cnt); %local i rec; %let rec=%sysfunc(inputn(&n.qname,1.)); %put &n.qname1=&rec; %mend; I would like to map it to a function, however. %macro foo(n=&cnt); %local i rec; %let rec=foo(&n.qname,1.); %put &n.qname1=&rec; %mend; I've tried a few different things with a number of errors, but I'm not sure if I'm doing something silly and just not seeing it or what. A: &n.qname1 should be passed as a formal argument to foo. Also, for %put to work, we need some data in your calling function. For example: data: test qname1 qname2 qname3 ; qname1 = 'A'; qname2 = 'B'; qname3 = 'C'; run; %macro foo(n=&cnt); /* * Usage: foo(n=&cnt); */ %local i rec; %let rec=%sysfunc(foo(n.qname,1.)); %put &n.qname1=&rec; %mend; %foo(test); Newly unsealed documents suggest a brief for President Donald Trump's personal attorney, Michael Cohen, may have been used to draft the misleading statement of Donald Trump Jr. The "exceptionally well-prepared, in-depth briefing" was paid for by the Republicans for Congress, and likely selected by Sean Spicer.
