While we are watching Bollywood, Tollywood, Kollywood, and Rosy Thots genres, we are also getting remakes of shows like Mahabharatha, Satyamev Jayate, and even the legendary Ramayana, that were actually the rule and not the exception. And, they are like movies, where hasty and harebrained ideas are taken up with the wild hope that people would enjoy them. Although she has had only one Tamil hit to her credit, with a drama titled Kurunthala Bhagyaraju, she has had a successful career in South Indian cinema with several films like Chakravakam, Kalam Mari Mani, Agni Paravasam, and Marutha, directed by mega-director Rajiv Menon. In these movies, her sole purpose is to be the reason of films succeeding. She has been directing since she was a young girl, having experimented with a few projects. This included her first-ever Tamil movie and the Hindi TV-series Kal Ho Naa Ho, for which she also wrote the songs. These days, she is directing a few Hindi and Malayalam movies. She has yet to make it to Telugu. One of the problems with Tamil movies is their lack of plot, in which characters do not develop at all. They are either flat, they are too predictable, or they are too standard and fixed with limited content. Another problem with Tamil movies is their lack of culture. We have been highlighting these for quite some time now. In recent times, we have witnessed more on film makers side who have tried to create some kind of sense of culture in their films. This has worked for some, but not really all. Even Sivakumar's recent films fail to have a sense of culture. The same can be said about some of the films this year, like Raju Arasu's Gadha Rangam , Manu's Gandhi and his Sisu and the Vijay's Murattu Kaalai and his Vijay

The first look poster of a Tamil biopic based on the life of the legendary actor has been unveiled by Vijay's daughter Kangana Ranaut. The film is helmed by DOP Anoop Menon, and it is an official remake of the Hindi biopic of actor Naseeruddin Shah titled "Gentleman" which released in 2018. Coming so close to the birthday of Kangana Ranaut, the poster of the movie clearly shows the star looking gorgeous in an outfit with "GNI" written on it, and an expression of innocence. Pledging to give a tribute to the great actor, "Gentleman" was a tale on Naseeruddin Shah, from the life of his father. The film tells the story of a freedom fighter who fought in the civil disobedience movement and later become the first Chief Minister of the state of Delhi. The film also stars a number of actors like Prasanna, Ajith Kumar, Ajay Devgn, Tanvi Azmi, Divyanka Tripathi, and others. Ace director DOP Anoop Menon is associated with Vijay's movies like Ayan, Kaavalan, Kaakka Muttai, Mankatha, Prakash Raj's Anniyan, and Kanchana 2. He is currently working with Tamil superstar Vijay on Kanchana 3. The makers are planning on releasing the first look poster of the Tamil remake of the recently completed Hindi biopic of the late actor Naseeruddin Shah. The poster is titled "Gentleman" and it is being revealed as an official remake of the same. The film's first look poster was launched yesterday by team of the movie on a Facebook page that's a huge fan of the actor, and it shows him as a young boy, in a shirt and a pair of pants. The poster features a large image of the actor, the tagline written on top of the poster says "Gentleman".
